VOLUME 13 • NUMBER 1 • WINTER 2010

A Letter from the President

Poet Henry David Thoreau wrote, "Never look back unless you are planning to go that way."

The great pitcher, Satchel Paige, always said he never looked back because something might be gaining on him – he always looked forward.

That's our attitude at PTP – bring on 2010!

2009 has been a wild year with history made in the White House, the economy on watch, government health care debates, that 3 billion "Cash for Clunkers" scheme, people working harder to make the same money and, oh, what a great year in college football!

Thankfully, our nation's economy appears to have turned the corner – experts are using the word "expansion" and the housing market improved.

PTP Expands Customer Service Area

We're Growing! PTP continues to grow! As of November 2, 2009, Professional Turf Products L.P., assumed responsibility for distributing and servicing Toro products in Missouri, Arkansas and Kansas. The addition to PTP involves territories previously served by the Kansas City office, which was owned by the Toro Company.

"We are honored that the Toro

Company would choose PTP to take on the responsibility for these areas," said PTP president Eddie Clark. "It's a credit to our people who are taking care of the customer the way Toro wants us to."

The addition expands PTP's territory north to the Nebraska border and farther east into Missouri and Arkansas.

10 PTP "Customers" Headed To Bowls

The 2009 college football season was a record-setting one for "Conference PTP" as 10 teams from PTP's territory made it to the post-season.

While many teams return to bowls, there's one team making its first post-season appearance in 25 years and two teams that finished undefeated and in the Top 4 in the BCS.

Texas landed in the National Championship game against Alabama while #4 TCU and #6 Boise State ended up paired in the Fiesta Bowl. SMU makes its first bowl trip since 1984! PTP congratulates all 10 teams – it's great serving winners. Thanks for your business and good luck to your favorite team!
